3, 2, 1, BANG! Another year has passed, and we're back with the 25th anniversary edition of the Film Festival of the Faculty of Informatics at Masaryk University (FF FI MU). This year's festival is held under the auspices of the mayor of the Brno-střed district, Mr. Ing. arch. Vojtěch Mencil, Brno Mayor JUDr. Markéta Vaňková, and the Dean of the Faculty of Informatics, prof. RNDr. Jiří Barnat, Ph.D. For the first time, screenings will take place not only at FI but also in a brand-new venue—Cinema City in the Velký Špalíček. Our film enthusiasts have prepared a vibrant lineup of short student-made movies that push boundaries and exceed your expectations. So sit back, relax, and let's get started!

ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

The very first time FF FI MU was held was in the year 2001. Since then, countless aspiring directors from our university have taken the opportunity to create films for this special occasion. For the past few years, the festival has been open to external films as well. Part of the films that you are about to watch were made by various film school students from both the Czech Republic and Slovakia, or simply even amateur individuals who had the time and passion to let their creativity flow. So, whether you are interested in animation, documentary films, or comedy, maybe one of today's short films will be the final impulse to inspire you to create something of your own. Who knows, maybe next year your own work could make it to this very festival!

LABORATORY LEMMA

The Laboratory of Electronic Multimedia Applications (LEMMA) has a years-long tradition, just like the festival. It was founded in 1999, only two years before the first festival was held. Even though it resides at the Faculty of Informatics, its members are not just students and alumni of FI, but also students from various faculties of MU. LEMMA connects film-making aficionados through three separate film-related subjects - PV110, in which the students are taught the basics of film discourse; they will learn to use film technology in practice and find out how they can write their own script; PV113, in which the students get to create their own short film from scratch; and PV174, in which the students become a part of the FF FI MU organization team and have the opportunity to maintain the festival website, create official visuals for the festival, or communicate with potential festival partners, among many other things.

KERNUN

We are a Czech company specializing in the development of security solutions for network perimeter protection. Our mission is to help companies protect users and data, and enhance cybersecurity to ensure that all users can sleep peacefully at night and focus confidently on what matters during the day. We pride ourselves on our solutions being Czech-made, developed in Brno, and not outsourcing technical support abroad. Understanding the challenges faced by Czech administrators and having deep knowledge of Central European internet traffic are our priorities. Especially in today's times, with conflicts in the East and unpredictability from major allies in the West, we believe that emphasizing European cybersecurity solutions should be a crucial aspect of every company's defense strategy. That's why we strive to accommodate everyone and demonstrate that even in a small country like the Czech Republic, it's possible to develop high-quality, secure solutions that enhance protection against internet threats.

NOTINO

Imagine an e-shop that processes hundreds of thousands of orders every day across more than 25 European countries. That's Notino – a technology-driven company pushing the boundaries of online beauty product sales.

Founded in 2004 as a small project in Brno, Notino has grown into one of Europe's e-commerce leaders thanks to its focus on modern technologies, automation, and a data-driven approach. Behind our success is a robust proprietary platform, continuous optimization of logistics processes, the use of AI in product recommendations and dynamic pricing, and the development of in-house tools capable of scaling operations across the continent. For the IT community, Notino is attractive not only because of its growth, but also due to the technological challenges it tackles: building a microservices architecture, creating custom cloud solutions, personalizing experiences through machine learning, and placing extreme emphasis on security and speed. It's a place where technology and business form a single, unified entity.
